African Development Bank for their excellent arrangement for the E African economy realized a growth rate of 5.1 percent and highest levels since 1996. Many African countries improved over the previous years, and inflation declined. The Sub-Saharan African countries saw further narrowed fiscal deficits and improved foreign trade.

Achieved through the reforms, the African countries will achieve their economic development. To the African economic development. To the African countries will sustainable and relatively uld, in light of their own of poverty reduction and sustainable growth, the African Development Bank, in accordance with the Millennium Goals. It conducted various operations to help the African countries achieve the Millennium Goals. It reviewed the involvement of the creditor countries in each stage of the projects so that the quality of the loans and be improved. With respect to priority, the Bank laid due emphasis on the unique circumstance of each country, and linked its lending operations to the performances of the countries. The Bank has also attached importance to the assessment of the projects. We agree with the approaches adopted in its operations, and progress achieved so far under the leadership The agricultural population constitutes the overwhelming majority, support to which economic development. Efforts need to be made to assist the poor people to develop their local economy, which is the most effective way to reduce poverty. The Tenth Replenishment of the African Development Fund, which constitutes an important step for the ADB Group and further progress in poverty reduction and economic development of the African countries. registered US$29.5 billion, increasing by 59 percent. Up to now, 715 Chinese-funded enterprises are conducting business in 49 African countries. China has also set up human resources development funds to provide training to African countries. A total of 2400 persons in 2004. China will continue to provide assistance to the African countries in various forms, and gradually increase the assistance within its capacity.

Afric Bank of China and the African Development Bank will also be invited to China to hold the Fifth ADB Business Opportunities Seminar. We hope that, through the cooperation and the African Development Bank, the Chinese enterprises will more We call for concrete actions by the international community, in particular the developed countries, to help Africa achieve the Millennium Goals by improving the terms of trade of the African countries to these countries.

We sincerely hope that the African Development Bank Group will make progress and social progress in